

THOMSON ROGERS LUNCH & LEARN SERIES

ST. JOHN'S REHAB HOSPITAL

DATE: WEDNESDAY, MARCH 7, 2012
TIME: 12 NOON - 1:00 p.m.
LOCATION: GRASSETT HALL (MAIN FLOOR)

The partners of Thomson Rogers are pleased to present a lunch and learn talk about how the treatment, care and reports you provide with respect to your patients is presented and challenged when the case goes to trial. Many healthcare practitioners are called to trial to give evidence about their patients, at some point in their career. From the time a patient leaves hospital to the time of trial is often several years.

We will explain what happens in the legal process in the interim. We will also explain what role medical practitioners play at trial:

- How you are presented;
- How you should be prepared;
- What you can expect to be asked by lawyers and judges, etc.

Our presentation will include a mock examination and cross-examination of an expert medical witness at trial.

We expect the presentation to be informative, interesting and, most importantly, brief.
